with Prosperity' drive is facilitating the power sector players to invest in the social uplift projects in the communities they are working with. PIMS Director Dr Khalid Masud informed the Nepra chairman that the upgraded children's ER at PIMS is a result of a robust public private partnership. The CLF has so far saved 4.5 million children absolutely free of cost through its 12 state-of-the-art Children's Emergency Rooms in Sindh, Balochistan and Punjab. PIMS' CHILDREN EMERGENCY RESPONSE CENTRE GETS AN UPLIFT

Staff Reporter

ISLAMABAD: Children's Emergency Response Centre at the Pakistan Institute of Medical Sciences (Pims) has been renovated and the area expanded to 5,000 square feet, raising the capacity of beds from 12 to 30. Talking to mediapersons who were especially invited to the centre, the hospital's director, Dr Khalid Masood, said the facility was renovated under public-private partnership (PPP) initiative. "The emergency response area has been expanded with the cooperation of the Child Life Foundation (CLF) which has replicated its emergency care model in Islamabad," he said. Speaking on the occasion, CLF General Manager Communications Shahzad Zaki said the foundation had been providing free emergency care and consultation to children across Sindh, Balochistan and Punjab for the last 11 years.

"This year we have achieved a milestone by modernising the children emergency response (ER) centre at Pims. The impact of this ER will be huge as it will serve underprivileged children not only in the capital territory and Punjab but also from Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Gilgit-Baltistan," he said. Mr Zaki said the CLF had so far saved 4.5 million children absolutely free of cost through its 12 state-of-the-art children's emergency rooms in Sindh, Balochistan and Punjab. The organisation aims to cover every district of every province by 2030, he said. Meanwhile, the National Electric Power Regulatory Authority (Nepra) chairman, Tauseef H. Farooqi, also visited the emergency room at Pims and praised the paperless, automated model of care implemented. "I came to know about the CLF's cause under Nepra's power with prosperity initiative.
